

Job Description

Visiting Lecturer – Various roles in Leadership, Marketing, Human Resource Management, Human Factors for Digital Health, Healthcare Supply Chain Management and Pharmaceutical and Biotech Policies and Practices

Department: UCL Global Business School for Health

Reports to

Associate Professor and Programme Lead for Global Healthcare Management, GBSH

Context

University College London (UCL) is one of the world's top universities. Based in the heart of London, it is a dynamic, outward-looking institution. At its establishment in 1826, UCL was radical and responsive to society's needs, and this ethos – that excellence should go hand-in-hand with enriching society – continues today.

UCL East

In our single biggest development since we were founded, UCL has expanded to East London. Located on the Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park, UCL East is dedicated to disruptive thinking and discovery across disciplines and beyond academic walls and to finding solutions to the biggest challenges for future living. We are located in Newham, East London – one of the most socially diverse parts of the UK – and we want our staff recruitment to reflect this.

Opened in 2022 and 2023, UCL East unites academic activities across experiments, arts, society and technology, integrating research and education, theory and practice with cross-disciplinarity, innovation and public engagement. More than just a conventional campus, UCL East represents a future focused mindset.

Work to be agreed as and when required. No fixed hours. Hours to be agreed in accordance to working time regulations.

Hourly rate: £33.00 - £43.07

Location: UCL East

The post will be based at UCL East.

UCL Global Business School for Health

The UCL Global Business School for Health (GBSH) at UCL East campus is an innovative business school in preparing future healthcare leaders to disrupt and reimagine global health systems. GBSH is dedicated to training and developing the next generation of leaders in the global health economy by building on UCL's proud tradition of cross-disciplinary academic excellence in education and research. GBSH develops talent from all sectors – policy makers, technologists and entrepreneurs – to challenge conventional thinking, to improve health outcomes and address health inequalities world-wide.

With a vision for public good, GBSH is dedicated to health as the most important global issue in the 21st Century which is impacting communities and economies worldwide. Its ambition is aligned to the UN Sustainable Development Goal of 'Universal Health Care for All'. At GBSH, we bring together global perspectives from diverse healthcare systems, industry partners and sector networks.

GBSH is an interdisciplinary academic entity that is located within UCL's Faculty of Population Health Sciences which is committed to innovating and improving health worldwide.

Main purpose of the job

This post supports delivery of UCL Global Business School for Health's new MSc suite of programmes as well as contributing to the Executive MBA Health at UCL East. We are looking for a number of individuals to support us as visiting lecturers in leadership, HRM and Marketing.

These individuals will:

- Contribute to the development of education content
- Undertake teaching at postgraduate level on modules taught as part of the suite of programmes in GBSH
- Develop curriculum and other teaching activities to enhance the student experience

Duties and responsibilities

The post holder(s) will prepare and deliver appropriate teaching material, including regular tutorials and seminars, as part of the delivery of the relevant module requirements. Duties will include:

- Teach as part of a team on postgraduate courses as allocated by the Head of Department, mainly (but not exclusively) in MSc programmes, including supervision, administration and marking of exams and assessments.
- Contribute to the development and delivery of a high-quality, inclusive curriculum.
- Design, develop and deliver learning materials, schemes of work and records maintaining student progress, attainment and attendance, provide pastoral care and support to students.
- Actively promote the UCL East vision of transdisciplinary, collaboration, and public engagement.
- Support and advance UCL's equality, diversity and inclusion ambitions.
- Carry out duties in a resource efficient way and actively support UCL's Sustainability Strategy, policies and objectives within the remit of the role.

General

- Actively promote UCL East's academic values of interdisciplinarity, collaboration, and public engagement.
- The post holder will carry out any other duties which are within the scope, spirit and purpose of the job as requested by the Line Manager
- The post holder will actively follow UCL policies including Equal Opportunities policies and is expected to give consideration within their role as to how they can actively advance equality of opportunity and good relations between people who share a relevant protected characteristic and people who do not share it.
- The post holder will maintain an awareness and observation of Fire and Health & Safety Regulations.
- The successful candidate will need to meet UCL's expectations of core behaviours

This job description reflects the present requirements of the post, and as duties and responsibilities change/develop, the job description will be reviewed and be subject to amendment in consultation with the post holder.

For information on UCL's values, culture, and staff benefits, visit Work at UCL.

As London's Global University, we know diversity fosters creativity and innovation. We want our community to represent the diversity of the world's academic talent, from local to global. We are committed to equality of opportunity, to being fair and inclusive, and to being a place where we all belong.

We, therefore, particularly encourage applications from candidates currently under-represented in UCL's academic, research and teaching workforce.

These include people from Black, Asian and ethnic minority backgrounds; disabled people; LGBTQ+ people; and women.

Person Specification

Criteria	Essential or Desirable	Assessment Method (Application/ Interview)
Education and Qualifications/ Training
PhD in a related subject area such as leadership, HRM, Organisational Behaviour or Marketing, Human Factors/Human-Computer-Interaction, Operations and Supply Chain Management or PhD and/or experience in the science of decision making and strategy in healthcare (experience in pharmaceuticals is preferred)	Essential	Application
Higher education teaching experience	Essential	Application
Knowledge of key debates and academic literature in the area of teaching	Essential	Application/Interview
Demonstrable experience of enhancing the student experience through various pedagogical methods	Desirable	Application/Interview
Skills and Abilities
Excellent communication and presentation skills with the ability to enthuse listeners	Essential	Application/Interview
Ability to deliver research-led effective, engaging and inclusive postgraduate teaching	Essential	Application/Interview
Personal Attributes
Experience of and enthusiasm for collaborative and team-based working	Essential	Application/ Interview
Ability and willingness to contribute to the education and research profile, administration and general life of the School	Essential	Application/Interview
Commitment to UCL's policy for equal opportunity and the ability to work harmoniously with colleagues and students of all cultures and backgrounds	Essential	Application/ Interview